High-Ranking General KO'd Probe In '67

WASHINGTON (AP) — A high-ranking Army general squelched an investigation of alleged currency manipulation, influence peddling, liquor smuggling and multimillion-dollar thefts by a clique of career sergeants, the Senate has been told.

Service Clubs Looted

The testimony came Thursday before a Senate subcommittee looking into charges that a group of top NCOs—including

Sheridan Tank Target Of House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House—turning aside efforts to chop $2 billion worth of other weapons projects—has voted to kill the trouble-plagued Sheridan tank.

The proposal to end the $1 billion Sheridan program as soon as the current contract is completed was shouted through the House Thursday with little debate and no vote count.

The proposal was backed by Armed Services Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-SC., whose committee concluded the tank's caseless ammunition is dangerous and the tank itself was not worth the time and cost of development.

But efforts by military spending critics to cut money from the Safeguard antimissile system, C5A supercargo plane, ships, helicopters and missile programs were easily defeated one by one.

The critics tried to cut the projects from a $21.35 billion authorization for procurement of military hardware.

Rivers' committee already had cut $57.6 million from the Sheridan program, leaving only $15.2 million for completion of the present contract.

It had urged the Army to correct the tank's problems—particularly the danger of ammunition explosions inside the tank—before it asks authority to buy any more.

Milliken Prepared For School Bill Fight

Governor Will Detail Fiscal Plans Oct. 9

LANSING (AP)—Vowing he's "not going to pull any punches," Gov. William G. Milliken has given aides one week to whip into shape the biggest, but yet unseen, punch in his education reform plan—his tax proposals.

Milliken expects now to make formal legislative recommendations and reveal fiscal details of his wide ranging plan in an Oct. 9 address before a joint session of the Michigan House and Senate. The two chambers reconvene Monday after a two-month recess.

Good Fight Foreseen

"We're in for a good fight and we ought to have one," Milliken said Thursday at a news conference. Reaction from legislators, educators and the public left him "reasonably optimistic" and "encouraged," Milliken said. "I couldn't care less whether I get credit or somebody else does."

"But if necessary, I hope we are here singing Christmas carols to each other on Dec. 25—if that's what it takes," the governor added.

Milliken again declined to discuss specific revenue reforms he will ask:

First, to raise some $186 million he recommends be added to next year's schools budget.

Second for the other, long-range revision in revenue assessment through cuts in the property tax.

"I intend to stick to the present system" of taxing, Milliken said Thursday.

"I will not recommend a graduated income tax."

Funds To Be Made Up

"For every mill we back away from 24 (the statewide average local assessment) we lost $35 million," Milliken said. "If we assume the rate would be less than 20 mills (or $20 per $1,000 assessed property valuation) that would be $140 million we'd have to make up."

Milliken said he might propose "some combination" of taxing methods to meet the added costs. Rep. Martin Butth, R-Comstock Park, assistant minority leader in the House, said recently that Milliken is considering a five-cent increase in the state tax on cigarettes.

There also has been speculation that the state sales tax, now four per cent, might be hiked.

The final plan, Milliken insisted Thursday, "won't be locked up until I walk into the joint session."

Questioned about other controversial recommendations—parochial, and abolition of the

Teachers Strike At Harper Creek

By The Associated Press

Teachers in the Detroit suburb of Grosse Pointe planned to go on strike today but school officials said schools would remain open anyway.

Some 150 teachers in the Harper Creek district outside of Battle Creek were to go on strike today after an 11th-hour negotiating session failed to produce agreement Thursday night.

Officials said schools would be closed to the district's 3,300 students until further notice.

Meanwhile, strikes continued in Lincoln Park and Clarkston, near Detroit, and in Mason in Monroe County.

David Baschore, president of the Grosse Pointe Education Association, said 600 of the district's 700 teachers attended a strike meeting Thursday and approved the strike by a 5-1 margin.

Grosse Pointe School Supt. Theos I. Anderson said classes would go on despite the strike. Baschore said teachers would not picket.

In the Dearborn Heights Crestwood district, teachers have voted to strike Monday unless settlement is reached on a new contract over the weekend.

State Board of Education—Milliken replied "I recognize that various parts of the bill will have to stand on their own."

Parochial Proposal

Commenting on the parochial aid proposal, House Minority Leader Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, said earlier Thursday, "I sincerely hope that this is separate and will not be a part of the package."

Waldron added, "I believe it is my job to pass as much as we can."

Milliken defended elimination of the State Board of Education, now elected by popular vote on partisan tickets, as a way to get more direct public accountability.

"The man in the street would finally know where to go with a complaint about education," Milliken said of his proposal for putting the education Department under a director appointed by himself, subject to Senate confirmation.

Citizens Challenged

"If you centralize this responsibility you can throw him out if he's not doing well. Now who do you throw out? The state board? Or do you divide the responsibility among 144 legislators?"

Amchitka Blast Rated Success; 2 More Planned

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission plans two more nuclear test explosions on Amchitka Island in the Aleutian chain after Thursday's blast which did not yield an earthquake or a tidal wave.

Objections Noted

The Soviet Union, Japan and Canada as well as numerous U.S. scientists and political figures had objected to the one-megaton underground explosion because they feared it would cause seismic disturbances in the tremor-prone Alaskan or Aleutian faults.

But the blast yielded only a ground roll on the desolate, windswept island, and apparently did not even bother 25 sea otters swimming in pens near ground zero.

AEC officials at a control center in Anchorage said two more nuclear tests were planned under the island Tundra during the test project.

Plan To Finish Project

"We're looking forward to finishing the project. We're hoping we will not have to return to the Aleutians," said Maj. Gen. Edward B. Giller, assistant general manager of military applications for the AEC.

Gov. Keith Miller, a Republican who supported the test, said the commission had advised him that it would be at least two years before another test would be set off on Amchitka. "It turned out about the way I expected," Miller said. "Everything looks all right. I'm pleased that it's over and there are no apparent ill effects."

Scientists said there were no visible "aftershocks" but that scientific instruments may register unfelt aftershocks for days or weeks. They said no radiation escaped from the 4,000-foot deep hole in which the blast was detonated, and that a building atop the hole was not damaged.

Hole 6,000 Feet Deep

The hole was 64 inches in diameter. Another hole 6,000 feet deep and 90 inches in diameter had been drilled. A third hole 6,000 feet deep and 120 inches in diameter is being drilled.

The AEC said the first explosion was a suitability test and indicated the results were satisfactory. It has not announced a reason for the next two. Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., noted this week reports that warheads of the antiballistic missile would be tested at the site.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia condemned the test Thursday, saying such an explosion could set off an earthquake and tidal wave, and constituted a U.S. escalation of the arms race. The blast was 700 miles from the Soviet mainland.

Japan and Canada made formal protests and Canada said it would bill the United States for any damage.

Arson Charges Placed Against 2 Downstaters

ROGERS CITY (AP)—A banker and a mortician face examination in Rogers City District Court on charges involving a fire which allegedly was set to collect on an insurance policy.

Ernest Blake, 42, vice president of the Presque Isle Bank in Rogers City, and Robert Gatzke, 29, a mortician at Gatzke Funeral Home, were released under $1,000 bond each by Judge Phillip Tshirhart after their arraignments Thursday. A preliminary hearing for Blake was set for Oct. 16. Gatzke's court examination is to be scheduled.

Each of the men is accused of attempted arson, conspiracy to defraud an insurance company and preparation to burn.

Authorities accused them of setting an automobile afire July 4 in an attempt to burn down a dwelling next to the car. The dwelling was owned by the men and was said to have been insured for $2,500.

More Aid For Disabled, Needy Aged Added To Welfare Plans

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Increased financial aid to the needy aged, blind and disabled has been added to the Nixon administration welfare program, now ready for Congress in bill form.

President Plans To Intervene In Railroad Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department announced that President Nixon will intervene to block a strike against six major railroads tonight.

A department spokesman said the President has decided to appoint an emergency board, whose members will be announced later, to take up the year-long wage dispute.

Appointment of the board automatically will postpone strike action for 60 days.

President Nixon is at Key Biscayne, Fla., for the weekend and there was no immediate confirmation from the White House staff there that action was contemplated.

Even before the Labor Department announcement came, however, reports had circulated in railroad circles that the President would act.

President Nixon sent the legislation to the Capitol Thursday, spelling out his Aug. 11 proposals for replacement of present aid programs with national minimums and a family assistance plan.

The proposals contain a $1,600-a-year floor for a family of four and for the first time would allow persons holding a job to qualify for assistance.

Job Training Plan

The Nixon plan also requires mothers now receiving Aid to Dependent Children—ADC—to work or take job training if possible—a provision which has drawn criticism in Congress and elsewhere.

The new proposal for increased payments to persons receiving aid to the blind, aged or disabled was announced by Robert H. Finch, secretary of health, education and welfare. It would provide a minimum of $90 a month—$63.75 to be paid by the federal government and the rest by the states.

Different Allowances

Such categorical assistance now ranges from $35.75 a month for elderly persons in Mississippi to $144.20 a month for blind persons in California.

Finch said the increase would be made possible by a 10 per cent increase in Social Security benefits, taking enough elderly persons off welfare rolls to boost payments for those who remain.

Coal Mine Safety Measure Passes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sponsors of the most stringent coal mine safety bill ever to clear a branch of Congress say they are confident the measure will become law this year.

Following a 73-0 Senate vote Thursday, the measure was sent to the House where a similarly tough measure already has been approved by the Labor and Public Welfare Committee.

Congressional action has been spurred by the tragedy at Farmington, W. Va., last November where 78 miners died in an underground explosion and the wide publicity given recently to black lung disease.

House managers said they would push to bring the safety bill to the floor as soon as possible.

MRS. JOHN ABBOTT and her seven children have not heard a direct word from Maj. Joseph Abbott since shortly before he was shot down over North Vietnam in April of 1967. The only break in the darkness came eight months ago when an Air Force sergeant appeared at her home with a tape recording of an unidentified prisoner-of-war broadcast made last November. The Air Force compared the POW taps with tapes of Major Abbott and said they were the same voice. The major's status has been changed from missing in action to prisoner of war. (AP Wirephoto)

Witness Says:

Collins Was In Cycle Shop During Killing

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A second witness has said that John Norman Collins, accused of murdering an Eastern Michigan University coed, was in an Ypsilanti motorcycle shop during much of the time the crime was allegedly being committed.

John Lehto, a 26-year-old employee of J and J Motorcycle Shop, Thursday backed the shop owner in saying that they were with Collins on the afternoon of July 23.

The coed, Karen Sue Beine-man, allegedly was abducted by a motorcycle rider at about 12:30 p.m. July 23. An autopsy report indicated she was dead by 3 p.m.

Somewhere Around

The motorcycle shop owner, Joe Patten, said Wednesday Collins came into the shop about 1 p.m. Lehto, who said he usually comes back from lunch shortly after one, said Thursday Collins, 22, came into the shop "somewhere around 1 p.m."

"He just came into the shop," Lehto said. "He'd been in the previous day to have one of his motorcycles worked on, and was going to pay Joe the money he owed him for the work." Lehto said Collins stayed about one hour.

Lehto added that Collins had not acted abnormally when he came in, but "was in his usual jovial mood."

Meanwhile, Robert Francis, a defense attorney for Collins, said he knows of "a number of people" who saw Collins on July 23.

Faces Murder Charge

Collins has been bound over for a first degree murder trial in the slaying of the 18-year-old Miss Beine-man, whose nude and mutilated body was found three days later in a rural area.

Six other young women were slain in the area and their bodies left in isolated areas. No one has been arrested in connection with them.

Francis said none of the others interviewed so far by the defense had stories as "significant" as those of Patten and Lehto.

Witness Surprised

Lehto, who resides in Ann Arbor and has worked in the motorcycle shop since April, said he has known Collins since "about May 1."

He expressed surprise over chief defense attorney Richard Ryan's statement in Washtenaw County Circuit Court Wednesday that Patten's whereabouts were unknown.

"The police have been there to interrogate us on his (Collins) behavior and habits and his whereabouts that afternoon," Lehto said.

"After he was arrested, in fact, he called up Joe and asked him if he would verify the fact that he was in the shop. The prosecution and defense attorneys were both well aware of our whereabouts and we were available at all times for comment."

U.S. Paratroops Hit Viet Cong

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. paratroopers fought North Vietnamese forces along the demilitarized zone and closer to Saigon while the United States lost three more aircraft in the war, military spokesmen said today.

Two observation helicopters of the 82nd Airborne Division were shot down early today in a firefight 20 miles north of Saigon. Paratroopers on the ground lost one man killed and 10 wounded in the engagement, reports from the field said.

The 82nd Airborne has only its 3rd Brigade in Vietnam. That, together with one regiment of the 3rd Marine Division, are the major combat units being redeployed under President Nixon's second round of troop withdrawals.

A U.S. Air Force Phantom fighter-bomber crashed Thursday 95 miles northeast of Saigon, killing one crewman. The U.S. Command said the plane was believed shot down by enemy ground fire.

Two Americans were reported killed and 20 wounded in 20 enemy rocket and mortar attacks during the past 24 hours, the U.S. Command said.

The DMZ action involved paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Division, moved up to replace departing Marines, spokesmen said.

The spokesmen said a company of 100 to 150 paratroopers was patrolling a mile south of the DMZ late Thursday when it ran into fewer than 50 North Vietnamese troops in bunkers.

A two-hour battle of small-arms and machine-gun fire killed two paratroopers and wounded four. Enemy casualties were not known.

Another company of paratroopers a mile away came under a 25-round mortar barrage from North Vietnamese but suffered no casualties, U.S. headquarters said.

Romney Planning To Oppose Hart?

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans generally reacted with enthusiasm Thursday over an indication by former Michigan Gov. George Romney that he may run for the Senate next year against Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich.

Asked by newsmen if he felt tempted to step down as secretary of housing and urban development and enter the Senate race, Romney replied: "I haven't completely closed the door."

Road Employees Honor Wickholm

Department of State Highways fellow employees and associates gathered in Escanaba Thursday for a luncheon honoring Edward E. Wickholm, whose record of 42 years of service is exceeded by only one other employee in Michigan.

Wickholm will retire this month. He is a right of way engineer.

The position from which he retires will be filled by George Labre of Escanaba. Labre has been employed in the right of way section for seven years; has worked for the department for 18 years; and was an inspector on construction projects in the Peninsula before moving to the Escanaba office.

A park to be named for Wickholm is located on U.S. 2 west of Blaney Park near Gulliver in Schoolcraft County.

Among those attending the luncheon were:

John G. Hautala, Lansing, chief, bureau of operations; Deputy Director G. J. McCarthy; E. W. Bailey and R. J. Lilly of the planning division; W. A. Sawyer, chief of the construction division; Henry Hamp, Gary Hultgren, Robert Earl, Howard Wood, Earl Hart, Harold Meredith, Ray Wardwell, Albert Backus, Joe Molinare, Bill Sines, all of the Lansing right of way division.

John Carlson, retired, Escanaba; Paul Michelin, Charles Lavender, engineers, Newberry; T. E. Anderson, retired district engineer; E. S. Anderson, retired maintenance engineer, also of Newberry; R. F. Roasatti, Norway, retired district maintenance engineer; A. J. Marusich, district engineer, Crystal Falls; O. J. Caspary, Houghton, retired project engineer, and others.

Coho Report Shows Angler Success Low

The first Daily Press coho report shows that 69 fishermen surveyed on Little Bay de Noc and the Whitefish River caught 18 coho and one large brook trout this week.

This is a 26 per cent success ratio, not a very good percentage. This survey was conducted by the Department of Natural Resources and includes only authenticated catches reported to those resorts participating in the survey.

Dave Johnson, DNR district biologist reports that anglers are having fair success fishing with a cleo spoon in the Whitefish River itself. "Mepps spinners and Flatfish are still the big fish-getters out in the Bay," he added.

The biggest fish caught this week weighed 16½ pounds. The week we talk of is from Monday to Thursday.

GOOD COHO CATCHES

While things are running slow at the Whitefish, Thompson salmon fishermen are doing well. Good catches of coho in the 13-15 pound class were reported this morning, and five boats came in Thursday with catches of three fish or more.

Surveys at Thompson Thursday showed an estimated 75 fishermen caught 48 coho and one brown trout that weighed close to 10 pounds.

'Big Mac' Still Breaking Records

September traffic on the Mackinac Bridge continued its record-breaking trend established during the early months of 1969 when the 60% fare reduction became effective, reported Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, in his monthly summary of bridge statistics. "One interesting aspect of this year's traffic compared with the corresponding months last year is that the percentage of increase, as well as the volume, has gone up more on the heavy days than on the light days. Thus, we have had our biggest increases during the week-ends rather than on weekdays."

September traffic was up 16.2% from 159,322 crossings to 185,099. Revenues went up 2.3% from $687,561 to $703,612, of which $382,760 represented September's 10.9% of the $3,500,000 annual subsidy.

September truck traffic was up 20.8%. For the first nine months of 1969 traffic is up 21.5% from 1,227,713 vehicles in 1968 to 1,491,084 this year. Revenues are up 1.2% from $5,411,773 to $5,470,436, including $2,848,335 of the $3,500,000 subsidy.

Determined Coho Break Iron Pipes On Spawning Trip

BOYNE CITY (AP) — The power of the Coho salmon's spawning urge has been demonstrated along Porter Creek near Boyne City.

State biologists report the big fish smashed through one-inch iron pipes set an inch apart at the mouth of the creek and swarmed upstream to spawn.

The weir was one of several erected to prevent the salmon from swarming into shallow creeks where they were speared and clubbed by swarms of fishermen last year. Biologists said they believe repairs to the weir have blocked the spawning run at Porter Creek.

Roving Riders Club Plans Award Banquet

POWERS — Mabel Bellmore presided at the meeting of the Roving Riders 4-H Saddle Club Wednesday night at the Kenneth Bellmore home in Powers. New members are Tony and Duane Walak of Wilson, bringing the membership of the club to 22.

A club award and presentation banquet is planned for Oct. 12, from 7 to 9 p.m. and will be held in St. Francis Xavier Parish Hall. There will be a display of individual awards and trophies. Scott Bellmore will be master of ceremonies. Mabel Bellmore is general chairman.

There was some discussion concerning uniforms and club colors. Meetings will be held every two weeks with the next meeting scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 15. Mabel Bellmore reported on the State Show which she attended at Michigan State University in East Lansing in August.

New officers will assume their duties at the next meeting. Lunch was served by Beverly Dugree.

Teachers Told To Play Active Role

Terry Herndon, executive secretary for the Michigan Education Association (MEA), told a representative group of U. P. teachers at last night's dinner at the Terrace Supper Club that they should play an important role in helping meet what he called "The Challenge for Change."

Herndon quoted Martin Luther King who said that man has no bounds to what he can do, but that along with his love and compassion he also has the capacity to commit murder through war.

"It is the responsibility of teachers and our schools to cultivate reason, stimulate imagination, elevate vision and inspire students to pursue the best of human nature," Herndon told the teachers in attendance. He described the best of human nature as peace, brotherhood, beauty, liberty, freedom, love and compassion.

Herndon further contended that man too infrequently followed these ends. "Our society is given too much to hatred, oppression, exploitation, pain and war," he said.

"Schools should be a part of society, not apart from it. Education must be a part of life, not a preparation for it," Herndon stated.

In his closing statement Herndon expressed a belief that parental example is extremely important to children. "Parents and teachers must start to worry less about telling children what to do, and worry more about showing them what to be," he said.

AU Would Challenge Parochial In Court: Doerr

If the Michigan Legislature adopts an educational financing bill that includes parochial aid it will be challenged in the courts by a group of organizations including Americans United for Separation of Church and State.

Edd Doerr, Washington, D. C., of the staff of Americans United for Separation of Church and State, said in Escanaba last night at a public meeting:

"Basically, court decisions in similar actions add up to the position that parochial aid is unconstitutional."

Doerr spoke to a group of about 50 persons at a meeting in a hall of Immanuel Lutheran Church.

In Michigan, Gov. William Milliken's special Education Reform Commission has recommended a school operating budget that would include a controversial $25 million grant for parochial and private schools.

Doerr, in Escanaba to address the Michigan Education Association regional conference today, spoke at the public meeting under sponsorship of a recently organized Upper Peninsula Chapter of Americans United.

Dr. J. M. Skaates, Hancock, president of the U. P. Chapter, introduced Doerr and conducted the question and answer period after Doerr spoke.

Dr. Skaates told the audience that although the meeting was held in the Immanuel Lutheran Church hall, neither the opinions of Doerr nor of Americans United were "either supported or rejected" by Immanuel Lutheran Church.

Express Regret
Before Doerr's appearance here there were questions on the propriety of his coming, due in part to the distribution by the U. P. Chapter of certain written materials that were extremely offensive to the Catholic Church.

Doerr expressed the regret of Americans United and told the audience that included a number of representatives of the Catholic Church:

"Let me express my regrets first of all. One of the men who was a member of the Chapter board — the board members came from several parts of the Peninsula and some were unknown to each other — is a man of very intemperate views.

"He issued some reprehensible material. Earlier today when I was in Marquette I learned of it, demanded his resignation and got it. He is no longer with us. His views did not reflect those of Americans United in Michigan or anywhere else," Doerr said.

Note Difference

Doerr said in part:

"For all practical purposes, state aid to non-public schools means state aid to Catholic schools, especially as patrons of other non-public schools have shown limited interest in tax aid."

"Catholic schools are radically different from public schools, which are required by the Constitution and the very nature of democratic, pluralistic society to be religiously neutral, publicly controlled, and open to children and teachers of all creeds, races and conditions."

"Catholic schools exist primarily, according to Dr. George Shuster of Notre Dame University, 'to develop religious knowledge and practice,' and the 1966 Notre Dame study of Catholic schools shows that parochial parents and pupils agree."

Doerr also said: "It is both accurate and fair to say that Catholic schools, owned, controlled, and managed by the church, are an integral part of the church, an arm of the church engaged in one of its central tasks."

"Parochial schools also differ radically from public schools in that their operation is characterized by various kinds of and degrees of discrimination—some deliberate some de facto—in the selection of pupils, teachers, administrators, textbooks, teaching materials, facts or values to be emphasized, classroom decor, and so forth."

Rejected By Voters

The public schools are "respectfully neutral" to all faiths, said Doerr. The attitude is that religion is so important, government should have no control over it.

Public funds for non-public schools are now being used for transportation, text books, and auxiliary services. The goal of parochial schools is "100 per cent support from public funds," Doerr said.

Should parochial be extended, the door is opened to a proliferation of church-related and private schools that would increase the number of systems to a total of 25 or more, he said.

In New York state, parochial aid was rejected by the voters 3 to 1 when a constitutional amendment containing the provision was offered the people. Parochial aid would be turned down by Michigan voters, for "even the church is split down the middle on this," he said.

Doerr answered questions at the conclusion of his talk. He said that he is a product of Catholic schools and Dr. Skaates of Lutheran schools.

Banks' Speech Rated Success

By BOB GREGG

Dr. Murray Banks, psychologist and author, and one of the world's best speakers, opened the general session of Michigan Education Association's (MEA) U.P. Convention Thursday with a very funny talk that struck home on some important serious points.

The content of Dr. Bank's speech was not the important thing, but the attitude the audience got from it was. His humorous line only set the audience up for a hard fact of life. When he was through with the audience, Dr. Banks had them looking at themselves. It was sort of a group psychotherapy treatment.

Behavior Cited

Banks pointed out that no matter what anyone does there is always a reason behind it. "Human behavior is that way," he said.

He told the teachers that motivation is the most important thing in dealing with students. "They must be given reasons. To know how to motivate, you must know what a person wants," Banks said.

"Money is a means to get what you really want," said Dr. Banks. "But no one really works for money," he added.

He told the audience that variety and change are necessary for continuing interest. "You teachers should always be full of surprises for your students," he said.

After telling one uproariously funny story Dr. Banks struck the teachers with a hard mental fact. "Before you go back to your classrooms Monday consider that out of 25 children in your classroom, two will be insane; four will end up badly neurotic; four will be fairly neurotic; and four will be mildly neurotic," Banks said.

Audience Attentive

The audience was always still and attentive whenever Dr. Banks made a serious point.

He told the teachers that no one is ever born insane. "Insanity is a form of adjustment. Almost everyone who goes insane wants to be that way," Banks explained.

When it came to the common "nervous breakdown," Dr. Banks said there was no such thing. "The nerves never break down. Next time you hear someone say 'I think I'm going to have a nervous breakdown' ask them if you can see the nerve that is going to break down. He won't be able to show it to you," said Banks.

Adjust To Fears

People make adjustments to satisfy their fears. Banks said that as we ramble through life we should always be optimistic. Don't be contented, be anxious to do better," he told everyone.

He said that older people, and young people too, should always keep their zest for life. "Keep going, keep active, if you lose interest in something, don't keep doing it. Without interest, a creeping mental sickness could take hold of you," he said.

"If you're going to do something and worry about it, don't do it! If you want to do something and you're not going to worry about it, do it!" said Banks.

"Have insight into your own conduct. Remember, no psychiatrist in the world can cure mental illness. He can only help you to cure yourself."

Dr. Banks closed his talk by telling the audience to have a sense of the ridiculous. "Be able to laugh at yourself or anything that is funny. Remember, no one ever broke down because of overwork. People only breakdown because of over-worry," he said.

Banks left the stage to a thunderous ovation from a standing, appreciative audience, and as someone near me said "we were all a little better for it."

DR. MURRAY BANKS, psychologist with a sense of humor, was speaker at the MEA teachers conference opening general session Thursday afternoon. ## Judge Haynsworth Denies Plan For Pullout

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judge Clement F. Haynsworth today denied reports by congressional sources that he had sought to have his nomination to the Supreme Court withdrawn.

"I did not think about such a thing," Haynsworth told a reporter who asked whether he had asked President Nixon to call back the appointment. "I don't know where you all got such a thing. Somebody else dreamed the thing up."

When then asked whether he anticipated asking that the nomination be withdrawn, Haynsworth replied: "I have not and I don't."

Despite Haynsworth's denial, and one from the White House, the congressional sources who disclosed the original reports to the Associated Press Thursday remained firm today.

The sources said the White House had concluded after an informal headcount that at least 40 of the 100 senators were prepared to vote against confirmation of the 56-year-old U.S. appeals court judge.

One midwestern senator was reported to have told his staff hours before the reports were published Thursday that Haynsworth was asking that his name be withdrawn and that a statement from the White House was imminent.

M43 Hearing

LANSING (AP) — A public hearing over the proposed reconstruction of nearly 13 miles of M 43 in Kalamazoo and Van Buren Counties will be conducted Oct. 30 in Kalamazoo by the State Highway Department.

The hearing will begin at 8 p.m. at Grand Prairie school.

But afterward and following a talk with Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the latest information "indicates that this report is absolutely untrue."

Two of Haynsworth's strongest backers in the Senate took a similar tack. Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., the initial sponsor of the nomination, called the withdrawal report ridiculous.

And Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., the chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said after talking with Haynsworth: "The man's had no idea of coming down. He has had no idea of doing such a thing. He's never had such an idea."

Haynsworth had called at the Justice Department to confer with Mitchell earlier in the day. A department spokesman said there would be no comment on the conversation.

Harry Mastin Dies Suddenly

Harry Mastin, 74, of 1307 1/2 S. 22nd St. died suddenly at 1 a.m. Thursday at his home. He was born April 5, 1895 and had resided in Escanaba for three years. He had been employed as a carpenter.

Survivors include his widow, Mary; one son, Gary, of Escanaba; one daughter, Mrs. Gary (Rosalie) Petruske of Escanaba and one stepdaughter, Mrs. Norman (Duane) Brunette of Milwaukee; two brothers, Jim Mastin of Detroit and John of Dafer, Mich. and one grandchild.

Friends may call at the Allo Funeral Home from 4 to 9:30 p.m. Friday and complete funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m. Saturday at the Allo Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. Fabian Gerstle officiating. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Funeral Services Are Held For Rev. A. Jones

Funeral services were held Sept. 23 for the Rev. Alun O. Jones, 60, who died Sept. 21 at his home, 107 Country Club Drive in Marietta, Ohio.

Services were conducted at the First Presbyterian Church in Marietta and burial was in Mound Cemetery.

The Rev. Jones was born March 24, 1909 in Brecon, Wales and he was married to the former Evelyn Herron May 16, 1938. The Rev. Jones served at the First Presbyterian Church in Escanaba from 1943-45. Prior to this he served at the Presbyterian Church of Pemberville, Ohio and he came to Marietta in 1961.

He is survived by his widow; four sons, Lt. Allan H. Jones of Pearl Harbor, Hawaii; Dennis W. of the Pittsburgh Presbyterian Theological Seminary; Lynn R., a student at Lindsey-Wilson College, Columbia, Ky.; and Timothy, a student at Ohio State University, one grandchild, his parents, residing in South Wales, two brothers and on sister.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

Air Force Names Col. Scott To Command Post

Lt. Col. Wendall O. Scott assumed command of the 571st Strategic Missile Squadron during informal ceremonies at Davis-Monthan Air Force Base, Tucson, Ariz., recently.

Col. Scott joined the Air Force in 1942 as an aviation cadet and was commissioned a second lieutenant in 1943. During World War II he flew B-17s with the Eighth Air Force, then stationed in England.

After the war he was assigned to what was known as the Military Air Transport Command and is now the Military Airlift Command (MAC).

Beginning in 1950 he spent three years in Alaska flying C-124s and then was transferred to Kelly AFB where he was chief of training until 1962 when he entered the missile field at Shepard AFB. He has been on D-M since 1962.

A command pilot with over 10,000 flying hours he is also the holder of the command missile badge.

As squadron commander of the 571st SMS he is responsible for 45 combat crews consisting of four men with nine Titan IIs under his command.

Lt. Col. Scott is a graduate of Escanaba High School.

He is the son of Mrs. Edith Scott, and a brother of Mrs. Ken Gustafson and of Edward Scott, all of Gladstone Rte. 1.

Parochiaid Is Called Threat To Public Schools

Parochiaid and other forms of financing non-public schools from public funds "will put public education on the side," teachers of the Upper Peninsula attending the Michigan Education Association conference were told here today.

Edd Doerr, Washington, D.C., staff member of Americans United for Separation of Church and State, spoke at the closing session of the MEA conference in the Area High School gym this morning.

In the first session today the teachers heard Dr. Louis Rubin, director of the center for coordinated education, University of California, discuss "Life Skills in School and Society."

Doerr's topic, "Public Funds for Non-Public Schools?" is one of the most sensitive emotional and controversial to confront the MEA and Michigan in many years. The MEA received praise from Doerr for its opposition to granting public funds to non-public schools. He said the MEA in Michigan is ahead of other states in its stand.

Doerr described the effect of increased funding (some public money now goes to non-public schools for transportation, books, auxiliary services) as proposed in Michigan and other states as a threat to public education.

The number of parochial and private school systems will proliferate as the government funds for them increase, and the result will be higher (not lower) taxes, and a weakened public school system.

The Catholic schools spearhead the drive for additional funds, he said. Other denominations maintaining schools (Christian Reformed and Lutheran) say they are not hurting, and the Seventh Day Adventists oppose parochiaid, he said.

Canada's experience with multiple systems of education shows that the lowest costs exist where there is one system, is highest where they are multiple, Doerr reported.

The "naïstiness" in Northern Ireland is the result in part of the Anglican Church establishment mixing into government.

Newspapers Rated Best News Source

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — College students feel many newspaper stories are inaccurate and unfair, a survey shows, but rate newspapers better in this respect than news magazines, television and radio.

The survey, conducted by a committee of the Associated Press Managing Editors Association, was presented at the organization's convention Thursday.

The traffic control changes had been recommended by the manager and the Safety Advisory Committee.

Repurchase by the city of about 11 acres of land on Danforth Road for $13,300 from Clairmont Transfer Co., was authorized by the Council. Clairmont is expanding in the area of its present location and will not need the city-owned site.

Council referred to the Planning Commission for recommendation a request for a change in zoning at 18th Ave. S., between 21st and 22nd Sts., and adopted a Department of Natural Resources resolution permitting Julius Danowski to utilize submerged lands for a boat house at N. 3rd St.

The Council adopted a proclamation directing attention to the work of the PTA and to October as PTA membership enrollment month.

The survey showed that college students would like to read more stories about racial and social problems, politics, campus unrest and positive things. What they would like to see less of included crime and murder, society, scandal and gossip and Vietnam.

Newspapers Read
The college students said they spent an average of almost seven hours a week reading newspapers, more than three hours a week each watching television news and reading news magazines, and nearly three hours weekly listening to radio news.

High school pupils gave newspapers just over three hours a week compared to 2 1/2 hours each for radio and television news, and one hour 15 minutes a week reading news magazines.

"Are newspapers treating teen-agers fairly?" the high school students were asked. Many said negative news about teen-agers is overemphasized, not enough attention is given to good things young people are doing, and that newspapers stress the results of teen crime rather than the causes.

Rene Cazenave of the San Francisco Examiner, who directed the study by the APME content committee, said the college students interviewed were from 82 colleges and universities in 34 states, and the average age was 21.

The high school pupils represented 75 schools in 27 states, and the average age was 16 1/2.

Briefly Told

Men and women of the Moose are to meet Monday at 8 p. m., at the Moose Lodge, 803 Ludington.

Statement of Revenues and Expenditures FLAT ROCK PUBLIC SCHOOLS Year ended June 30, 1969

The Flat Rock Public Elementary School enjoyed a very successful school year, academically, socially and financially. A rewarding program was completed covering Remedial Math and reading under Title I of the Elementary-Secondary Education Act. Public Law 89-10. The instructors for the program were Mrs. Marguerite Barak and Mrs. Marie McClintock, both instructors have their advanced degrees in their respective fields.

We employ 16 full time teachers, our Kindergarten is on morning and afternoon sessions.

Our library materials were improved by moneys from Title II. This was matched by general fund moneys giving us a tidy sum for new library books.

The enrollment for the year 1968-1969 was 446, resulting in a pupil teacher ratio of 1 to 26.

The district operated a fleet of 47 twenty-two passenger buses as well as a 10 passenger Station Wagon. We also employ 5 school cooks, 2 custodians, 1 secretary.

We are working towards having a new classroom for a Type A program for the Educable Mentally Retarded for the school year 1969-1970.

Our testing program for the year included The Iowa Basic Skills for grades 3-5-7 and the Lorge-Thornycke Intelligence Tests for grades 4-6-8.

Respectfully,
Leo J. Brunelle
Superintendent of Schools

Board of Education
Flat Rock Public Schools

COMMENTS RELATING TO SCOPE OF EXAMINATION FLAT ROCK PUBLIC SCHOOLS June 30, 1969

Demand deposits were reconciled to amounts reported directly to us by the depositories. Receipts from County sources were compared with records of Delta County. Current tax collection receipts were reconciled with the total of the current and delinquent rolls for 1968. Current and delinquent taxes and other remittances received were tested by reference to duplicate receipts and other underlying data. Details of recorded receipts were traced to bank deposits on a test basis. The totals of the receipts records were reconciled with deposits recorded by the bank for the year.

For selected periods, paid checks were compared with disbursements and payroll records, noting amounts, payees, signatures, endorsements, and cancellation dates. Vendor's invoices, claims, and other data were inspected in support of selected disbursements, and account classification was tested. Transfers between funds were traced and payroll records were reviewed. The totals of the disbursements records were reconciled with checks paid by the bank for the year. Amounts paid teachers were tested by comparison with approved contracts.

Insurance policies and other data presented to us were inspected in support of the insurance coverage shown. Minutes of the meetings of the Board of Education were reviewed for data relating to financial transactions. Cancelled coupons and bonds paid during the year were inspected.

The child accounting records were examined by the Superintendent of the Delta - Schoolcraft Intermediate School District and were not a part of our examination.

Official Claims AP Nursing Home Stories Are True

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — An official of the American Nursing Home Association said here Wednesday that a recent series by The Associated Press on nursing home conditions around the nation was "absolutely true."

However, David R. Mosher of St. Petersburg, Fla., first vice president of the association, claimed that "the AP reported only the bad five per cent of what goes on in nursing homes and not the good 95 per cent."

Mosher spoke Wednesday at the convention of the Nebraska Nursing Home Association in Omaha.

On another topic, Mosher said that some nursing homes are becoming chain operations in order to economize on buying equipment and food.

He said some adequate nursing homes have closed because they could not meet expenses or make a profit. In Florida last year, he said, seven homes declared bankruptcy and one was a new 480-bed home.

According to Mosher, welfare payments are the key reason homes are going under. He said payments form a floor for all charges.

However, he predicted that increased welfare payments will help keep homes open.

Glenn Campbell Hour Leading Way Again

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Glenn Campbell Goodtime Hour" was a success last season and nobody is likely to change its mood in its return year.

The title is a clue to the CBS variety hour's character: It concentrates on cheerful music, mostly country style, and instrumental solos. George Burns guest comedian Wednesday night, remarked that he felt naked because he wasn't carrying a guitar. Almost everybody on the show strums or picks strings.

Campbell has an attractive singing voice and a way with the guitar. He looks like the all-American boy and has a pleasant manner but in large doses he seems a bit bland and there seems to be a sameness about his songs. The program would be more stimulating, too, if there were a stronger mix of comedy among the musical numbers.

After eight years, the Clampt family has gone back to the Ozarks for a visit. A change of scene is good for a long-playing situation comedy like "The Beverly Hillbillies," and the script writers can set the jokes in new surroundings.

In past seasons the family has gone to England and to New York. This time, Jethro was left in the Beverly Hills mansion with Mr. Drysdale, the banker, as a sort of keeper.

Granny and the rest apparently have returned to a sort of Ozark Brigadoon where the people still dress as if it were 1880. Jethro, meanwhile, has gone hippy and student protester, giving the writers a chance to poke some broad fun at current events.

NBC's "Music Hall" is one variety hour that is not constrained by a format or by the talents or personality of a star host. It can move from one entertainment area to another.

On Wednesday, it was an anti-semitic version of a Friars' roast — the Friars being an actors' club and the roast, a tradition. The subject was Milton Berle, and on a dias to pay jocular tribute was an impressive array — comedians Jack Benny, Alan King, Jan Murray, Henny Youngman and Red Buttons; baseball star Don Drysdale; singer Steve Lawrence, and Bishop Fulton J. Sheen.

It was a very funny show. Wisecracks flew around the stage like frightened bats. All the speakers were sharp, bright and warmly insulting. Berle was the butt of humor about his well-publicized joke-stealing and his fondness for dressing in women's clothes for on-stage comedy scenes.

Mayor Hubbard Asks Referendum On Sex Education

DEARBORN (AP) — Dearborn Mayor Orville Hubbard plans to submit the controversial question of sex education to the people in a citywide referendum in November.

"I'm dead set against sex education in the schools," said Hubbard. "Putting the matter on the next ballot may help clear up a lot of muddled waters around here."

Hubbard said he would ask the city council at its meeting Oct. 14 to include the question on the November ballot devoted mainly to millage taxes.

Local schools, however, would not be bound by the sex education vote.

Last year, Hubbard won support for his anti-Vietnam war stand with a similar advisory ballot.

Mrs. Ernest A. Johnson (Preston's Portraits)

Linda Kay Preston, Ernest Johnson Wed

Linda Kay Preston and Ernest Edwin Johnson of Escanaba exchanged wedding vows during a double ring ceremony performed Saturday, Sept. 20 at St. Joseph's Church in Escanaba.

Officiating at the nuptials at 1:30 p.m. was the Rev. Isidore Walter. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Preston, 801 1st Ave. S. and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Johnson, 1510 11th Ave. N.

Chantilace
The bride chose for her wedding a white floor length bouffant southern belle gown of chantilace, fashioned with a scalloped sabrina neckline, long lace sleeves and a chapel train. A cluster headpiece of beads and pearls secured her elbow length veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of carnations and ivy centered with a white orchid corsage.

Maid of honor for the bride was Cathy Janke of Escanaba and bridesmaids were Sharon Preston of Wilson a cousin of the bride and Mary Austad of Escanaba.

Serving as best man was Michael Bero and groomsmen were Preston Preston, brother of the bride and Rod Johnson, the bridegroom's brother. Seating the guests were Vern Val-

Story Time On Saturday

Escanaba Public Library invites all boys and girls of the age of three and above to come to the Children's Room on Saturday at 10 a.m. for Story Time. The stories for this week will be: "Jeff and the 14 Eyes," "Little Indian," and "Pudding and Pie."

People

Melvin Anderson, son of Ethel Anderson of Perkins (Rapid River, Rte. 1) and brother of Glenn Anderson of the same address recently completed a three-week trip to England and Scandinavia. In England, Anderson visited London and then spent five days in Bristol at an international conference of chemists where he presented a scientific paper. In September, Dr. Anderson joined the chemistry department faculty at Lake Superior State College, Sault Ste. Marie.

Additional vacation stops on the trip were made in Copenhagen, Denmark; Stockholm, Uppsala, and Ostersund, Sweden; and Trondheim and Oslo, Norway. While in Ostersund, a stop was made at the regional archives, where Anderson did some searching of his mother's ancestry. He successfully traced the Sven Hall (pioneer Perkins resident) branch of the family back to about the year 1750.

Miss Penny Johnson has returned home to remain with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Johnson of 913 S. 16th St., until her wedding, which will take place Oct. 18.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Derouin, Ruth Reiffers, Helen Wickstrom, Mrs. Carl Matthews, Delores Groos, Marian Zastro and Myrtle Groff have returned home from Shawno, Wis., where they attended funeral services for Mrs. Frank (Agnes) Day.

One journalist, who perhaps had lost his wallet, suggested that the United States Government assign every American an all-purpose number.

Mrs. Jackson Honored On 99th Birthday

Family members, friends and neighbors gathered Saturday, Sept. 20 at the VFW Hall in Pontiac to honor Mrs. Irving Jackson on the occasion of her 99th birthday. Her birthdate is Sept. 22.

Over 100 persons were in attendance and Mrs. Jackson received many gifts, flowers, cards and monetary tokens. A buffet dinner was served and featured a large birthday cake. Organ music for the event was furnished by members of the family.

Mrs. Jackson is the mother of eight children, of which three are living and she also has 15 grandchildren, 46 great grandchildren and 20 great great grandchildren.

Guests included, her daughters, Mrs. Harriet Sandstrom of Pontiac, with whom she makes her home and Mrs. Kenneth Mallman of Escanaba. Another daughter, Mrs. Roy Mitchell of Los Angeles was unable to attend.

Her first grandchild, Charles E. James and his wife of Ft. Pierce, Fla., and his sisters, Mrs. Preston Maggett of Seattle, Wash., Mrs. Aubrey McCray of Longmeadow, Mass., her grandson, Irving Jackson of Crystal Falls; and granddaughters, Mrs. Thomas James of Pontiac, Mrs. Marilyn Watacha of Oak Park and Mrs. Clarence Ingersoll of Clarkston. Five great grandchildren were also in attendance.

Mrs. Jackson also received congratulations from President and Mrs. Nixon and from Lawrence Welk and her birthday was announced at the Tiger game on Monday, Sept. 22. She has always been an ardent Tiger fan.

Road Hazards Meeting Topic

LANSING (AP)—Hot tar, exploding paint solvent, stampeding cattle and enough chickens to cover one-half mile of highway are among the offbeat traffic hazards reported by Highway Department maintenance engineers.

The engineers, holding their annual fall conference this week at Lansing, swapped stories of some unusual accidents on Michigan highways.

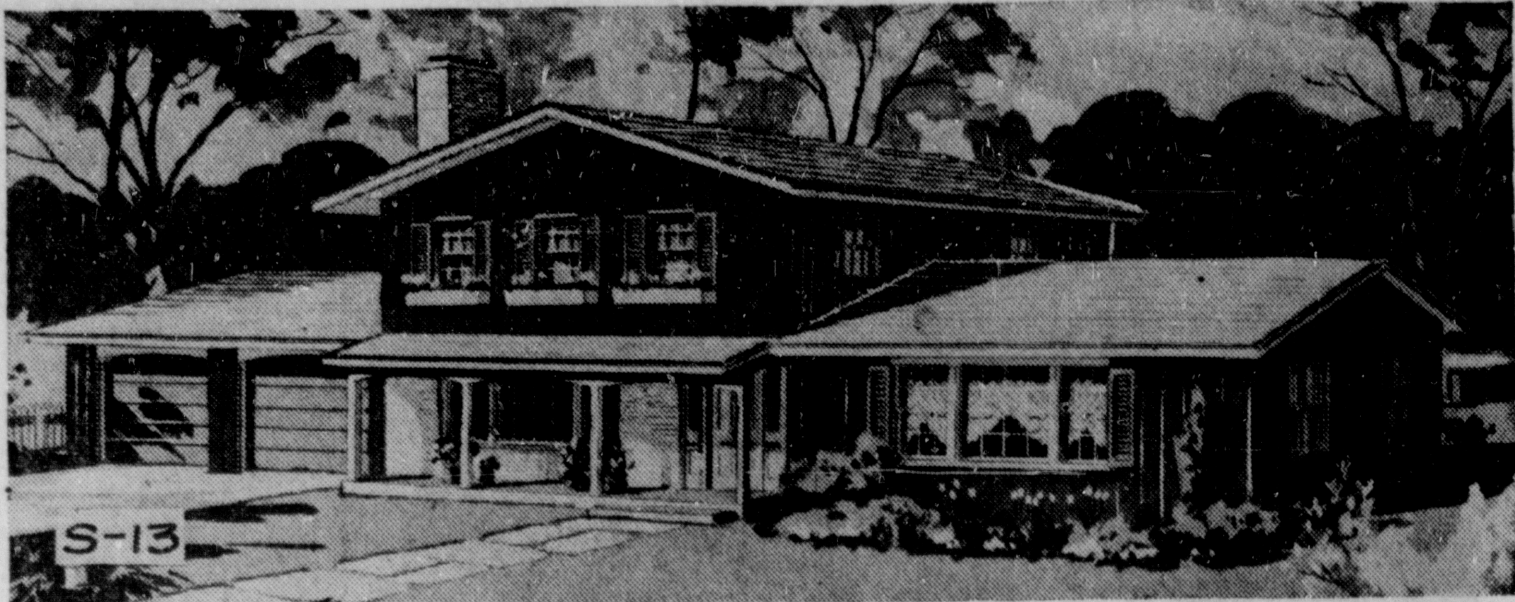

They included:
Hot tar from an overturned truck spilling and hardening in a culvert on Interstate 94 west of St. Joseph, engineers still are trying to get the tar out of the culvert.

—A three-truck accident spilling lubricating oil and releasing a load of white-faced Hereford cattle into 70-mile per hour traffic on Interstate 96 near Okemos.

—A load of paint solvent exploding and burning on Interstate 94 near Ann Arbor, cracking several hundred feet of pavement.

—Twenty tons of dressed beef spilling from a truck on a ramp of the Ford-Lodge freeway interchange in Detroit during the late afternoon rush hour.

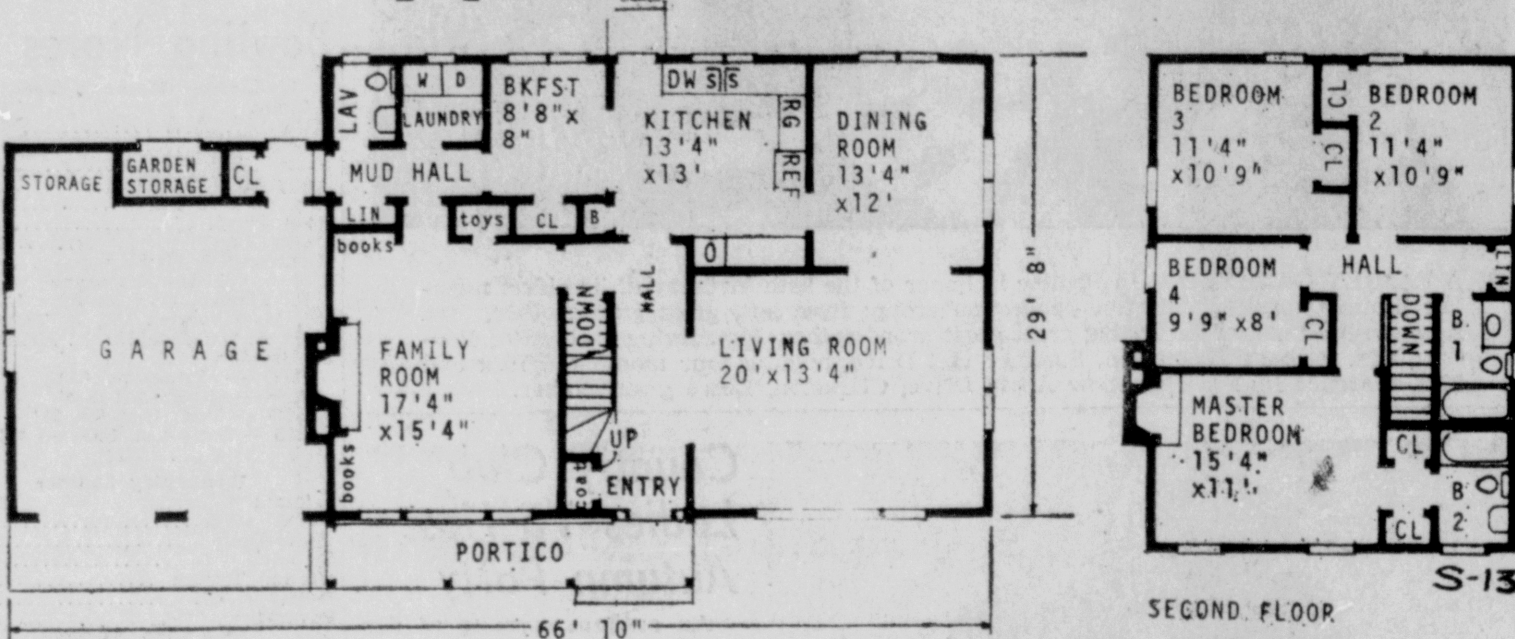

—Several thousand live chickens escaping after an accident and scattering over one-half mile of Interstate 94 near Berrien County. An occasional chicken still is reported roaming in the area.

FARMHOUSE GOES MODERN: Although up-to-date in every respect on the inside, the exterior of this traditional two-story house is in the style of farmhouses of yesteryear, with low wings on either side of the central portion.

Farm-Type Of 4 Bedrooms

FLOOR PLANS: Center hall leads directly to the four main portions of the house — the formal living room and dining room to the right, the family room to the left, the kitchen-breakfast area straight ahead and the four upstairs bedrooms.

One of the most popular House of the Week plans of recent years was a two-story house with a central portion flanked by low wings in a style reminiscent of the old farmhouse designs.

Here's another version of that house, also by architect

Herbert C. Struppman, but this time with four upstairs bedrooms instead of three. Like the other structure, this one has warmth and charm, with everything laid out within rectangles, eliminating any exterior breaks that might add to construction expenditures.

Sheltered by the portico roof, the front door opens on an entry area with a coat closet and an attractive flight of stairs leading to the second floor. The master bedroom, at the front of the house, includes a fireplace, two closets, two windows, a dressing alcove and a private bath. Two of the bedrooms at situated at the rear and are identical, each with a closet and cross-ventilation. The fourth bedroom, if not required for sleeping quarters, can be used as a sewing room, study or any purpose desired. It is off the center hall and close to another bathroom.

On the first floor, the living room is to the right of the entry, the family room to the left. The latter has another door to the service center, which includes a laundry area, lavatory, linen closet and access to the two-car garage. Features of the family room are a fireplace with an extended hearth, two built-in bookshelves, three pretty windows at the front and a closet for games and toys. Fine for informal gatherings of all ages, this room is likely to be a most popular spot. For the more formal occasions, the living room and dining room, with an archway between, provide plenty of space, stretching from the front of the house to the rear.

The kitchen, flanked by the dining room and the service section, has a double window above a double sink and dishwasher, a built-in oven and countertop range, and ample storage and work areas. It also has a separate place for a breakfast table, a double window looking out on the backyard garden and a storage closet.

The garage has an inside storage closet, another on the outside and a door leading to the rear. The door is so located that one can go from the outside into either the garage or service area or from the garage into the house or rear yard. The arrangement is practical for moving grocery packages from a car to the kitchen and for washing up before entering any of the rooms.

Board and batten siding has been used for the major part of the house, with a white painted brick facade on the covered portico. Shutters, window boxes and other traditional details lend an air of hospitality.

S-13 Statistics

Design S-13 has a living room, dining room, kitchen, breakfast area and service center, including lavatory, on the first floor, totaling 1260 square feet. It has four bedrooms and two bathrooms on the second floor, adding 735 square feet of living space. There is a two-car garage, with inside and outside storage closets. Overall dimensions, which include the garage, are 66' 10" by 29' 8".

ON THE HOUSE

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures Writer

When a precise result is desired, wood finishing requires that some sort of test be conducted ahead of time, preferably on some inconspicuous part of the item.

This is never more important than when it is desired to change the color of the wood by staining it. The shade variations are almost endless, even when using the same color stain on the same kind of wood. Thus, two persons using stain from the same container on the same piece of furniture could get two different results.

The most important factor in obtaining the desired shade is the amount of time elapsing between the application of the stain and the wipe-off, the procedure necessary to remove the excess from the surface of the wood. The longer the stain is left on before the wipe-off, the darker the shade. To the novice, the difference between a stain that is wiped off instantly and one left on for a single minute is often very surprising.

Stain can be applied directly to the wood or after a thin coat of sealer has been put on. After staining, a sealer is usually necessary before the final coat. However, modern stains sometimes contain the sealers within themselves, so be sure to read the label on the container to determine whether a sealer is necessary and, if so, what kind.

(You can get Andy Lang's helpful booklet, "Wood Finishing in the Home," by sending 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Know-How, P.O. Box 477, Huntington, N.Y. 11743.)

Some wood finishers find it practical to lighten the shade of an oil stain by diluting it with turpentine and then wiping it off immediately after application. For a very light shade, as much as 60 per cent turpentine to 40 per cent stain is used.

In making a test, turn over the object to an area that won't normally be seen, such as the underside of a table. Apply a bit of the stain and then wipe it off in, let us say, 15 seconds. If, after drying, it seems too light, make another test, this time waiting 45 seconds or whatever time you wish. The important thing is to time the wipe-off accurately, so that when you get the shade you want, you'll know how long to wait during the actual staining.

Garage Is Handy Storage Area

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

You can live in the garage and use the house for storage and maybe live happily ever after. At times, it seems that the far-out solution is the only practical one to the outdoor storage problem that has been complicated by the indoor storage problem.

New houses offer less storage space for big items. Crawl space has replaced the old-fashioned roomy basement in many big houses. Architects and builders utilize every square inch of space for living in these days of rising costs.

The garage has been latched on to for storage, but you can't see the family car for the clutter. The average family on a small lot doesn't have space for a tool house, and in some areas, such outbuildings aren't permitted, so it is a question of the garage or rot, rust or warp.

A place for everything in the garage may solve a lot of problems. One family hangs a canoe from the ceiling over the car, another straps the camping equipment from exposed garage beams. But modern garages are likely to be less headroomy.

You can make better use of your space by planning garage storage, says Stanley Schuler in a new book "The Complete Book of Closets and Storage." The book offers ideas for getting the maximum storage out of a garage and of a basement, attic, kitchen and bathroom.

One or more shelves, 24 to 30 inches deep, may be built around the two sides and back of the garage above your head (about 6½ feet above the garage floor). Wider high-up shelves can be built down the center of the garage over the space between cars.

Shelf edges that are not supported from the wall should be secured to 2 by 2s that are bolted to the ceiling joists.

A rack for storing screens, oars, water skis, small rowboats and other long articles can be hung from the ceiling over each automobile. Over the car, the rack can be dropped to within 5 feet of the floor (provided the antenna is not extended to its full height) but in the passage space, the rack should clear the floor by 6½ feet.

Garage walls may be covered with holed board to give hanging space for every kind of tool. A 3-foot strip of board may be fastened around the walls 6 feet above the floor.

Garden tools such as hand mowers and extension ladders can be hung from 4-inch boards nailed to exposed studs by means of steel brackets which are slipped over the top edges of the boards.

Bicycles can be stored in home made bike racks outdoors in season, and when stored for a long term may be hung from the joists in the garage or from long wall brackets.

People with carports may find storage space within the shed by building a closet that extends either the length or width of the carport. A closet 7 feet high and 3 feet deep (large enough for garden furniture and other bulky items) with a floor four inches above the ground to keep out water is practical, Schuler explains. Bi-fold doors are suggested to give better access to more space and because "they withstand the weather better than folding doors."

Do-It-Yourself Floor Covering

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Professional house services are dwindling, but manufacturers are providing alternatives. New products are being introduced that will make it possible for a homemaker to do some jobs with a minimum of skills.

For example, carpet tiles with adhesive backing are now available, and one needs only a bump-free floor and a good back to pull off a pretty good job. Individual tiles can be removed for washing, and with adhesive backing renewed, they may be set again into place. A den may provide a small area for experimentation.

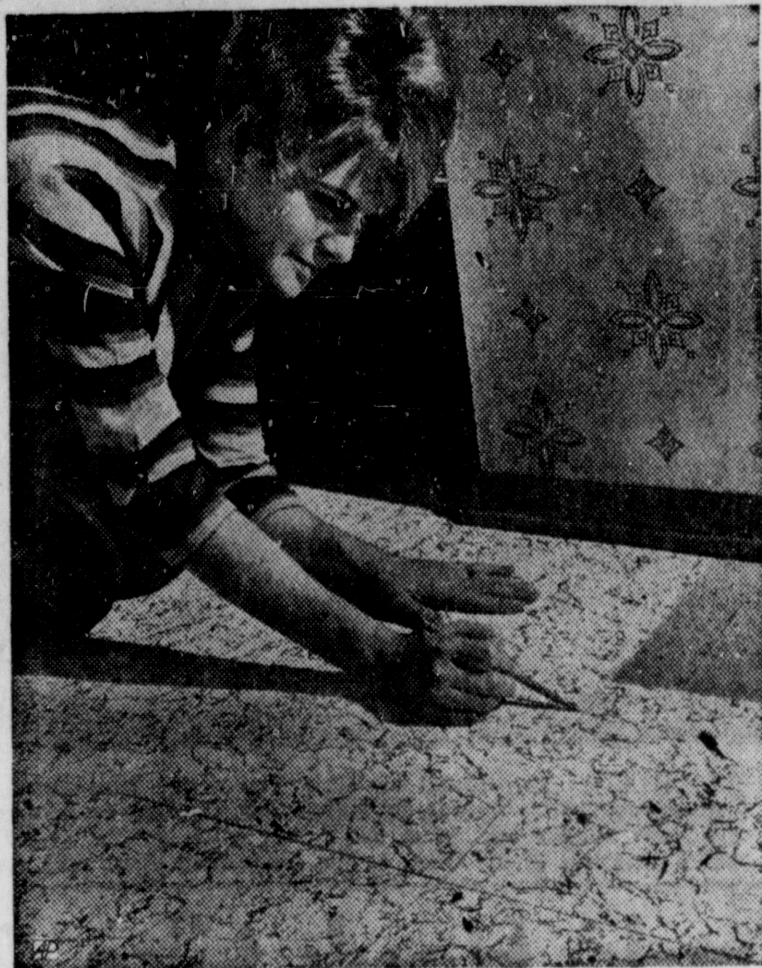

These carpet tiles—and those being introduced from Europe that are touted as requiring no adhesive—will be a boon to stores where storage of bulky home furnishings may be a problem. Some manufacturers predict that all carpet eventually will go the way of tiles.

Vinyl tiles also have become a do-it-yourself project now that a proper adhesive has been found to insure a permanent floor by do-it-yourselfers. A new "instant floor," recently introduced by Good-year, emphasizes the ease with which a floor may be put down. Each carton of adhesive-backed vinyl contains eight 12 by 12 in. tiles (8 sq. ft.). The cost is about five cents more a square foot per tile than the company's conventional tiles, which require adhesive and a professional tiler.

Directions on the package may appear to be involved, but the job dissolves into these basics: Determine how much tile is needed, prepare the floor surface by smoothing and removing protruberances, find the starting point, lay tiles and fit border tiles into place. The tile is cut before backing paper is removed.

If one has qualms about such a project, one might do a trial tile run in a closet or another small area.

Sheet vinyls may be installed without adhesive by a do-it-

FINAL STEP in laying an ail-vinyl floor is fitting the border. Tile should be measured and marked before adhesive backing is removed.

yourself. A 12-foot roll may provide a seamless floor if the room is no larger. The manufacturer (Armstrong) suggests using a molding around the floor or doors where the vinyl ends for a smooth finish. If room is larger than 12 feet, adhesive may be used at the seams.

A good floor venture for a lady do-it-yourselfer might be putting down bathroom carpet using one of the kits. These give instructions, and provide a pattern for fitting carpet around fixtures. It gives her an opportunity to test her skills for larger jobs.

Another great help to home decorators is a window shade kit that comes with everything except the fabric. The directions on the box, packaged by Stauffer, are complete, but one must have patience. The pre-cut shade cloth has an adhesive coating on one side that is activated with heat. The four-step method suggests that you apply your decorator fabric to it with a hot iron, and says that the permanent bond will seal the special cloth and fabric.

The shade cloth has been available to do-it-yourselfers for some time, but the advantage of the complete kit is that, in addition, it contains roller, slat, shade pull, mounting brackets and screws.

The homemade shade can provide a unified look. You can match the shade's fabric to chairs, bedcovers, wallpapers or whatever to make the room look more interesting.

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—A survey taken by the Roman Catholic diocese here found that 43 per cent of Catholics in the area had never heard of the Second Vatican Council, the 1962-65 meeting in Rome whose actions have revolutionized Catholic methods and thoughts. "Very startling data," observed Bishop Bernard J. Flanagan.

Program Set For 'Paper Gold'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The International Monetary Fund today launches its "paper gold," a new good-as-gold money based on faith and cooperation between nations.

Balloting among the 74 countries that have agreed so far to take part in the sweeping new program of Special Drawing Rights opened Thursday morning as the fund and the World Bank neared the end of their five-day annual meeting here.

Although votes were not announced, only South Africa's position appeared in doubt. As the fund's largest gold-producing country it has a special interest not only in the continued use of gold but also in its expansion.

Paper gold, or SDRs, will be international money backed by nothing more than the fact that nations will accept it in payment for world trade, just as they do now. It will exist only on the fund's books and will change hands only on ledger sheets.

Nevertheless, paper gold will be as good as the genuine article simply because the nations agree that it is, which is the only reason gold is accepted.

Of the $9.5 billion to be distributed in paper gold's first three years, $3.5 billion will come to life next Jan. 1. Plans are for $3 billion to be distributed on the first days of 1971 and 1972.

The fund's managing director, Pierre-Paul Schweitzer, proposed last month that the SDRs be distributed in proportion to nations' quotas—or required contributions—to the fund.

Since the United States and other industrial countries have the largest quotas because they have the strongest and most productive economies, they will receive most of the SDRs. They also have the largest voice in deciding whether SDRs will be distributed, and met in Paris last July to work out the details of the plan.

Another Coho Giveaway Set

LANSING (AP)—Another giveaway of Coho salmon is scheduled at the Manistee city marina Sunday.

The State Department of Natural Resources warned, however, that no repeaters will be allowed.

Only a valid fishing license is needed to qualify for the free fish. A man and wife are eligible for two.

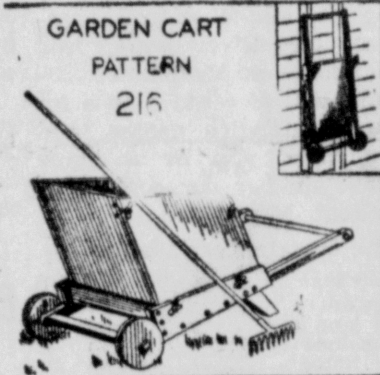

Those who already have claimed a salmon had their license punched by fisheries division workers.

Up to 4,500 Coho salmon taken in department weirs will be distributed. The giveaway starts at 8:30 a.m.

The fish will be dressed out and packed with ice in plastic bags. The heads will not be removed, so they will look more like trophy catches. The fish to be given away will average about 10 pounds each.

No Chinook salmon will be handed out this weekend as these are being saved so fisheries workers can strip them of their eggs.

So far, the department reported, the lineups for the fish handout have been very orderly. Some 3,700 fish were given away at Manistee last weekend within four hours.

NO STORAGE PROBLEM for this cart. Just remove the sides and hang it up. Make it now. You will use it the year around. It may have wooden wheels, as shown, or metal wheels may be used. Pattern 216, which gives material list, actual-size cutting guides and illustrated directions, is 50c. This pattern also is in the Gardeners' Helpers Packet No. 27 containing four full-size patterns all for $1.50. Escanaba Daily Press Pattern Dept., P. O. Box 50 New Windsor, N. Y. 12550

Strikes-n-Spares

With Mike Utt

Gene Jones caused quite a bit of excitement this past Tuesday night in the Bay de Noc League at the Bowl-A-Rama with his near 300 game, but a certain member of the team he was bowling against thought the whole thing was rather embarrassing. Gene bowls as the No. 4 man on the Delta Abstract team and he beat the No. 4 bowler (whose name won't be mentioned here) on the Daily Press bowling team by 177 pins with his 278 game. Guess who was having trouble knocking the pins down for the Press team?

Incidentally, for those of you who didn't see the report in Wednesday's paper, Jones rolled nine straight strikes before missing on his first ball in the tenth frame. He picked up the spare and then rolled another strike for a 278 game. The first ball in the tenth was a pocket hit but Gene didn't have enough lift on the ball to knock all the pins down.

Norm Panganis, who bowls for the Pabst team in the Thursday night Happy Hour League at the Bowl-A-Rama, was rather disturbed when his name didn't appear in print for picking up some spares a few weeks back. So, Norm, here it is: Norm Panganis picked up three splits for spares two weeks ago in the Happy Hour League. Norm's comment was, "That's more splits than I pick up in a whole season."

June Pearson, bowling in the Tuesday 9 p.m. League at the Holiday Bowl, performed a rather remarkable feat this week when she rolled an all-spares game of 197. June also finished the night with a 541 series.

The pins were really flying for Dolores Moras in the 7 p.m. Tuesday Women's League at the Bowl-A-Rama this week. She has been carrying a 136 average, but raised it with a 236 game. This game was good for a W.I.B.C. award for bowling 100 pins over her average. Dolores also had the high series for the night with a 538, followed closely by Shirley Rolstad's 537, Lu Barnhart's 514-524 and Shirley Peltier's 521.

Irene Yirsa, secretary of the Twilight Wednesday league at the Midway Lanes in Gladstone, reported that one bowler in her league, Chris Stewart, rolled a nice 583 series with games of 193, 196 and 194.

Red Holmes had another respectable week on the lanes this week, rolling a 224 game last Thursday, a 236 game in a 611 series on Friday night and a 223 game in a 629 series Tuesday night.

Bowlers in the Wednesday night Major League at the Bowl-A-Rama are going out all for top honors this season. This week, Ray Moran rolled games of 234, 223 and 210 for a 667 series. Nick Gersich had a 247-610. Stan Paul 224-209-613, Ray McDonald Sr. 212, Jim Sereiko 221, Ray Gardipee 211, Barney Barnhart 210-200, Bob Corriveau 209, Lloyd Brown 207, Al Alberis 204, Bob Moran 203 and Ed Gauthier 201.

Dark, Houk Like Orioles

In League Playoff Series

Everybody's glad the season's over except the clubs in the playoffs. Manager Alvin Dark of the Cleveland Indians said Thursday night. Oakland's Sal Bando might have different thoughts.

The stocky third baseman hammered a triple and single in four at-bats as the Athletics beat Seattle 3-1, giving him 15 hits in 18 trips at Seattle's Sicks Stadium this season for a .833 average.

Elsewhere, the West Division champion Minnesota Twins edged the Chicago White Sox 6-5 and Kansas City defeated California 6-2. The Indians and Yankees were rained out in New York while East Division winner Baltimore, Boston, Detroit and Washington were not scheduled.

The AL playoffs start Saturday with Minnesota at Baltimore and Managers Dark and Ralph Houk of the Yankees both liked the Orioles after their teams were washed out Thursday night.

"Baltimore will win it if Jim Palmer is okay to pitch the third game," predicted Dark. "But the Mets will win the whole works. They have the pitching and the momentum. Dave McNally, Mike Cuellar and Palmer should pitch real good against Minnesota. The Orioles have good hitting and good pitching and their defense is so underrated it's unbelievable."

Houk wasn't that sure. "There's no way to guess in a short series," he said. "Besides, I haven't made a prediction since the Dodgers beat us four straight in the 1963 World Series.

"Over the season Baltimore had the best club. And Baltimore has an advantage in that they have two lefties going against a club that's got a lot of left-handed hitters."

"McNally and Cuellar may nullify Oliva, Carew, Reese, Roseboro and Uhlendorf. Then they can pitch around Killebrew."

The Twins, however, face Baltimore with the AL batting champion (Rod Carew, .332) and home run-RBI leader (Harmon Killebrew, 49 homers and 140 RBI).

Rich Reese, Tony Oliva and Bob Allison homered for the Twins but they got the winning run in the seventh inning when Cesar Tovar raced home from third on a passed ball.

Kansas City broke up California's Vern Geshert's no-hit bid in the seventh inning, combining four hits and two errors for four runs. Wally Bunker limited the Angels to five hits, including a ninth-inning homer by Jay Johnstone.

Three Crusaders

Take Over Leads

Three players from the Holy Name Crusaders hold leads in three statistical departments of the Great Northern Conference this week while Larry Rizzardi of West Iron County leads the conference in two others.

Tom Ness, Holy Name's fleet junior halfback, moved all the way from fifth place in the rushing department to first with a fine performance against Kingsford in a losing cause Saturday. Ness has picked up 205 yards in 40 carries, while his teammate Dan Young has carried the ball 55 times for 192 yards to hold down the No. 2 spot. Last week's top two rushers, Bob Theuerkauf and Gary Enstrom of Menominee, replaced Ness and Young in third and fourth places.

Young moved out of a four-way tie for the lead in scoring to take over the top spot with a pair of touchdowns against the Flivvers Saturday and now holds sole possession of first place with 24 points. West Iron County's Ray Palmer holds down the No. 2 spot with 18 points.

Joe Harvey, the Crusaders' gigantic tight end, continues to lead the conference in the receiving department with 10 receptions for 89 yards but Palmer has replaced Holy Name's John Baribeau in second place with eight catches for 87 yards. Baribeau dropped to fifth. Another local performer, Gene Timmer of the Escanaba Eskymos, jumped all the way to fourth place after not being listed last week, with 5 receptions for 89 yards.

Rizzardi replaced Bob Palomaki of Iron Mountain as the leading passer in the conference. He has thrown 38 times and has completed 23 for 276 yards and four touchdowns. Bob McGinn of Holy Name remained in second place with 17 completions in 40 attempts for 190 yards and two touchdowns.

Rizzardi also took over the lead in interceptions with three while Holy Name's Jim DeGrand dropped to second with two.

The conference scheduled for this weekend will feature the battle for first place between Kingsford and West Iron County at Iron River while Iron Mountain is at Menominee. Escanaba will travel to Alpena for a non-conference contest and Holy Name will be at home against another non-conference opponent, Manistique.

Rose Tops Hitters

For Second Season

By The Associated Press

Pete Rose, Cincinnati's Charley Hustle who runs almost everywhere, ran to his second consecutive National League batting title while Atlanta's Hank Aaron chose to sit on his final chance to win the home run crown.

Rose had gone 0-for-3 when he came to bat for the last time this season in the ninth inning of the Reds' 8-3 victory over Atlanta Thursday night. Runnerup Robert Clemente, of Pittsburgh, meanwhile, had gone 3-for-3 to close within .008 percentage points of Rose during Pittsburgh's 8-2 victory over Montreal.

"Some fellow in the first row told me (about Clemente) when I was going to get my bat," Rose said. "I was as nervous as I've ever been. I didn't know what to do."

Ah, but he did. He bunted, and hustled it out for a base hit that wrapped up the crown with a .348 average.

Clemente, meanwhile, went out on his final trip to the plate and closed at .345, the second Pirate to lose the batting title to Rose in two years. Rose beat out Matty Alou on the last day in 1968 with a .335 average to .332 for Alou.

Rose also scored two runs to tie San Francisco's Bobby Bonds for the league lead at 120.

Alou did grab some glory in his final game as he broke Woody Jensen's major league record of 696 at bats in a season set in 1956 with Pittsburgh. Alou finished with 698 at bats.

Aaron, on the other hand, sat on the Atlanta bench and watched his chance for a home run title fade away. Aaron stood one homer behind Willie McCovey's 45 after McCovey went homeless in San Francisco 3-2 loss to San Diego in the afternoon.

In other final day achievements, Bob Gibson had to go 12 innings for his 20th victory as he pitched St. Louis past Philadelphia 3-2, and Bill Singer of Los Angeles also won No. 20 in a 5-4 squeaker over Houston.

The Chicago Cubs beat the New York Mets 5-3 in the only other game and finished eight games behind the Eastern Division winners.

Rose, who entered the final game ahead of Clemente .348-.342, admitted "that's the first time in my life I've bunted with two men out and runners in scoring positions" after once again ruining Pittsburgh's monopoly on the title. Pirates had won the title from 1964 through 1967 until Rose nipped Alou last season.

Tony Perez' three-run homer, his 37th, capped a four-run seventh inning that overcame a 3-1 deficit and ended Atlanta's 10-game winning streak before the Braves, the West winner, enter the playoffs against the Mets on Saturday.

Clemente helped Pittsburgh clinch third place in the East in perhaps the last game to be played in 60-year-old Forbes Field. The Pirates tentatively are scheduled to open the 1970 season in new Three Rivers Stadium.

St. Louis, the overwhelming pre-season favorite to win a third straight pennant, finished a disappointing fourth despite Gibson's eight-hit, 10-strike out effort. Now 20-13, he gave only two unearned runs as he won 20 for the fourth time in five seasons.

Grant Jackson, 14-18, also went all the way, but walked four men in the 12th to force in the winning run with two out.

Clay Kirby, 7-20, yielded only five hits in seven innings and scored two runs for San Diego and stopped McCovey, who still took home the home run and RBI titles. He drove in 126 runs.

Bob Stinson raced home on Jack Billingham's wild pitch in the ninth inning to enable the Dodgers to shade Houston. Singer had made four previous tries for No. 20.

Ernie Banks slugged a three-run homer, the 497th of his career, and Ron Santo hit his 29th of the season as the Cubs ended the Mets' nine-game winning streak.

Odds makers Favor Braves; Figures Going With Mets

NEW YORK (AP) — Although the Atlanta Braves are listed 11-10 favorites over the New York Mets in the Las Vegas odds, the season figures show an 8-4 edge for the Mets in their head-to-head competition. The margin was 4-2 in both Shea Stadium and Atlanta Stadium.

Tom Seaver, the Mets' 25-game winner, who faces Phil Niekro, the Braves' 23-game winning knuckleball ace, in Saturday's playoff opener, is 3-0 against the Braves. Niekro is 0-3 against the Mets.

Seaver and Niekro have met twice in regular season play,

The best-of-five series for the National League pennant and a World Series berth opens with a 4 p.m. edt game at Atlanta Saturday and another at the same time Sunday. They then move to New York, to conclude the series Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, if necessary. New York games will start at 1 p.m. edt.

Pat Jarvis has the best record of any Brave pitcher against the Mets, 2-0 although Ron Reed, who works Sunday's second game, is 2-1.

Jerry Koonsman, bothered early by a tender shoulder, faced the Braves only once and won 4-1, Aug. 8. With a batting order that is predominantly right-handed, few managers throw lefties against the Braves. However, Koonsman is due to go Sunday.

The Braves outbit the Mets 241 to 235 in their 12-game season series and slammed 13 homers to five by the Mets.

Hank Aaron hit five of the homers and batted .325 against the Mets. Tony Gonzalez, acquired in June from San Diego, led the club with 350 in the six games he played against New York as

Karras Blasts Quarterbacks

CLEVELAND (AP)—Bill Nelson, the Cleveland Browns quarterback who has had knee surgery three times, may be a candidate for the scalpel a fourth time if Detroit's Alex Karras gets to him Sunday.

Karras, the veteran Lions defensive tackle, didn't give New York's quarterback Fran Tarkenton a moments rest in Detroit's 24-0 victory last week. And Karras, who eats quarterback backs for dinner, may find Nelson to his liking when the Lions meet the Browns in Cleveland.

"What I think they should do is put the quarterbacks in ballerina uniforms so we could distinguish between them and the other players and then we wouldn't hurt them," Karras said. "Then I'd feel like I shouldn't hurt them."

"That sounds like Alex Karras," responded Nelson to the comment. "That's their job. They're trained to get the quarterback. If they don't they get chewed out. It's impossible to put the quarterback in a glass cage."

"I'd rather be a quarterback than a running back going through those monsters," Nelson added. "The rules give us more than adequate protection, I think."

The game will be only the eighth for Detroit against Cleveland in regular season competition. The Lions have won six of the previous seven.

"I personally am ashamed of our record against the Lions and would like to do something about it," said Jim Houston, the Browns defensive co-captain. Cleveland has a 2-0 record while the Lions are 1-1.

DEFENSIVE STAR — Herb Adderly, veteran defensive back, who saved the Green Bay Packers' victory over the San Francisco 49ers last Sunday with a last minute pass interception, tells newsmen how it really was after Sunday's game. For his heroics, Adderly was named the Defensive Player of the Week in the National Football League. (AP Wirephoto)

Purdue-Stanford Contest Heads Big Grid Schedule

By The Associated Press

Baseball isn't the only sport whose top teams will be opposing one another this weekend. Three college football games involving teams in The Associated Press' Top Twenty poll are on tap Saturday, with one of them a possible advance look at the Rose Bowl.

That's the clash in Lafayette, Ind., between eighth-ranked Purdue and 17th-rated Stanford and Ross-Ade Stadium figures to be filled with footballs when Purdue's Mike Phipps and Stanford's Jim Plunkett start throwing.

The other big contests pit ninth-ranked Missouri against No. 13 Michigan at Ann Arbor, Mich., and Mississippi, rated 20th, against Alabama, No. 15, at Birmingham, Ala.

Elsewhere, top-ranked Ohio State is at Washington, No. 2 Penn State at Kansas State, Texas Christian at third-rated Arkansas, Navy at No. 4 Texas and Southern California, No. 5, at Oregon State.

Sixth-ranked Oklahoma is idle, No. 7 Georgia entertains South Carolina, 10th-rated Tennessee visits Memphis State and UCLA, ranked 11th, is at Northwestern.

Florida, No. 12, hosts Florida State, 14th-ranked Michigan State plays at Notre Dame, Baylor visits No. 16 Louisiana State, 18th-rated West Virginia plays host to VMI and Wyoming, ranked 19th, entertains Colorado State U.

In two games, Purdue's Phipps has passed for 499 yards and two touchdowns, Stanford's Plunkett for 421 and four. Phipps also has been elected co-captain for the third consecutive week.

"The players choose their captains, not the coaches," said Purdue's Jack Mollenkopf. "It's very unusual for a player to be elected three weeks in a row. But Phipps is their leader, they recognize that."

Missouri will start Terry

McMillan at quarterback, even though the Gator Bowl hero's sprained right foot hasn't responded well to treatment this week. Michigan's Don Moorhead scored three times against Washington last week and passed for a fourth touchdown.

Mississippi invades Alabama on the heels of a stunning 10-9 loss to Florida and 'Bama's Bear Bryant isn't happy about it. "I was hoping maybe they'd come in here a little overconfident and fatheaded," he said, "but it never takes much to motivate them against us anyway."

The contest matches two top-notch quarterbacks—Alabama's Scott Hunter and Archie Manning of Ole Miss.

Michigan State - Notre Dame should be another lulu. "I have never seen a lackluster Notre Dame-Michigan State game yet," says MSU's Duffy Daugherty. "This won't be either."

Michigan State's Bill Triplett has passed for only 89 yards in two games but the Spartans have talented runners in Eric Allen, Don Highsmith and Kermit Smith. The Irish have good runners in Bill Barz, Ed Ziegler and Denny Allan and Joe Theismann has passed for 241 yards.

Penn State meets a Kansas State team ranked eighth nationally in total defense and third in rushing defense. Florida's super sophs, rated fourth in total offense and third in passing, face a Florida State eleven ranked seventh in total defense.

The weekend gets under way tonight with North Carolina State at Miami, Fla., and Idaho versus Southern Mississippi in Mobile, Ala.

Season Marks Favor Orioles Over Twins

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles compiled an 8-4 record in regular season competition against the Minnesota Twins, their American League playoff opponent, but the margin didn't come easily.

Half of the 12 games between the division champions were decided by a single run, with Baltimore winning four. The teams split a pair of two-run decisions.

The Orioles held the statistical edge in runs, 52-40; homers, 14-7; batting average .254 to .231, and in pitchers' earned run average, 2.77 to 3.81.

But the battling Twins scored two one-run victories in extra innings, won another game 4-2 after scoring three runs in the eighth, and ended Dave McNally's 17-game winning streak when Rich Reese hit a grand slam pinch homer in the seventh.

On another occasion, Minnesota rallied for five runs in the eighth but fell short, 9-8, when Baltimore center fielder Paul Blair made a great leaping catch of Rod Carew's ninth inning drive with a runner aboard.

Blair, who finished the season in a horrid 15-for-84 slump, hit .353 against the Twins, driving in 11 runs while whacking seven of his 26 homers off Minnesota pitching.

Boog Powell, Baltimore's homer and RBI leader with 37 and 121 respectively, drove in nine runs against Minnesota on a .319 average. Frank Robinson had six RBI with a lowly .239 average and Brooks Robinson five despite a .156 mark.

Tony Oliva was Minnesota's top run producer against Baltimore, driving in six runs on a .326 average. Rod Carew, the league batting champion, was held to a .296 mark.

Harmon Killebrew, the major league leader with 49 homers and 140 RBI, solved Oriole pitchers for just two home runs and five RBI.

Reese had the best batting mark for the Twins, a hefty .409, while playing about half the games.

Minnesota manager Billy Martin may want to keep the left-handed swing Reese in the line-up although the Orioles will pitch lefties Mike Cuellar, 23-11, and McNally, 20-7.

The Twins have a so-so 31-25 record against left-handers, and Cuellar and McNally each took no-hitters into the ninth inning against them before Cesar Tovar singled Cuellar was 2-1 with a 2.01 ERA; McNally was 1-1 with a 2.31 ERA.

Baltimore reliever Pete Richert, another southpaw, was credited with three saves in six appearances against Minnesota.

Lefty Jim Kaat scored two of Minnesota's four victories over the Orioles and had a 1.80 ERA. Put hampered by injuries, he may not even get a starting assignment.

The first two Minnesota hurlers will be right-handers Jim Perry, 20-6, and Dave Boswell, 20-12. Against the Orioles, Perry was 0-1 with a 4.05 ERA and Dave Boswell was 1-1 with a 3.46 ERA.

1970 Caprice.

A lot of cars cost more.

But few if any are really that much more car.

Which explains why more and more of the smart money is coming to Caprice.

Look what you get:

- A big substantial 18-foot-long prestige car with a new 350-cubic-inch V8 engine, power disc brakes, Astro Ventilation, wheel covers, deep twist carpeting, posh appointments.
- A remarkably roomy car, with a ride so smooth and silent you'll feel like Mr. Big himself. Tell you what, though. If you absolutely insist on a more expensive car, we won't stand in your way. Go ahead and order air conditioning. Order stereo. Order tinted glass, power windows, 6-way power seat, our new Headlight Delay system. Your Chevrolet dealer will happily help. See him real soon. Putting you first, keeps us first.

On the move.

Pair Will Face Jail-Breaking Charges Here

Two young men who walked away from the Schoolcraft County Jail Monday and were subsequently returned to custody entered pleas of guilty to a formal charge of breaking jail.

Thomas H. Coleman, 25, and Aaron Ziegler, 19, each face a possible prison sentence of one year and/or $500 maximum fine on the charge. They appeared in District Court Thursday morning before Judge Charles A. Stark. The court has the plea under advisement with sentencing expected next week.

Coleman, a Pennsylvanian, and Ziegler, Manitowish, walked away from the jail Monday night. Coleman was picked up Tuesday morning while walking on U.S. 2, near Garden Corners, and Ziegler was taken into custody Wednesday noon when he was sighted on the westside of town. Both were recently bound to the jurisdiction of the Circuit Court. Coleman on a morals charge and Ziegler on probation violation of a breaking and entering conviction.

The new District Court has jurisdiction over the two escapees, Magistrate Howard Magoon explained, under a Sept. 24 State Supreme Court ruling. Last December the high court restrained District Courts from handling charges classified as high misdemeanors on constitutional grounds but reversed the restraint and now allow such citations to be tried in the new tribunals.

William J. Sheahan Jr., 223 Range St., was fined $60 and $40 and sentenced to 10 days in Jail Wednesday when the court found him guilty of entering without permission.

MANISTIQUE SDE To Challenge School Payments

The State Department of Education (SDE) has decided to challenge an order to pay the Manitowish Area Schools $126,375.51 in back state aid payments, the local school district learned this week.

An application for "leave to appeal" a State Court of Appeals order to reimburse the district was filed by the Attorney - General's office last week on behalf of the SDE.

This latest maneuver could result in a hold-up of payments to the district for several months while the Supreme Court decides to accept or reject the application. Should it be rejected, the appeal is automatically denied and full payment will be due the district.

The local schools were victorious in a law suit filed in May, 1968 and a decision rendered July 31, 1969. Shortly after this, the Attorney General's office indicated they would settle with the district for $7,448.51 since no settlement formula was included in the Court of Appeals July decision.

The district, through Herbert & Wood law firm, filed a motion for settlement of judgment and the Appeals court computed the reimbursement and ordered a $126,375.51 payment.

Town Meeting Survey Planned

Area residents will be invited to suggest the problems and subjects for discussion on the "TV Town Meeting of the Air" series by filling out a survey form.

A survey form will be published in the Escanaba Daily Press next week and will also be available in local retail and grocery stores, banks, bars, restaurants and will be distributed to area school children when they receive report cards Oct. 14.

Demo Claims Nixon's War Plans Stymied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says he thinks President Nixon is trying to end the Vietnam war, but "it just hasn't worked out as he had hoped."

The Montana Democrat suggested the United States call for a standstill cease-fire, under which American troops would fire only if attacked and at the same time work for a coalition government in Vietnam.

Mansfield's statement in an interview came as Democrats were in the midst of another round of sharp attacks on the Nixon war policy.

Senator Eugene J. McCarthy, who tried for the 1968 Democratic presidential nomination on an antiwar platform, charged Thursday that Nixon's policies and rhetoric resemble that of former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

"It's almost as though we were back in 1966," the Minnesota senator said. McCarthy said he hoped such things as renewed antiwar demonstrations and the election of an antiwar candidate in a Massachusetts congressional election this week would influence Nixon.

Meanwhile, a new proposal came from Democratic Sen. Harold E. Hughes of Iowa.

Speaking in New York, Hughes said Thursday night he would be willing to consider Scott's call for a 60-day moratorium on Vietnam criticism "but only if linked to substantive plans for effecting the disengagement from Vietnam that Mr. Nixon promised the American people."

Discharged were Eldin Mercier, Eugene Shaffer, Sally Goudreau, Gilbert Vickery, Juanita Maynard, Mildred Baker and Dominic Beaudre.

Hart Under Fire For Information On Drug Usage

LANSING (AP) — A member of the State Board of Education has said Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., made "uninformed and potentially misleading statements about the dangers of marijuana."

Dr. Leroy Augenstein of Michigan State University, an aspirant for the Republican nomination for the Senate, was particularly critical of Hart's statement before a church rally in Jackson recently.

Hart said a study by the U.S. Surgeon General "could settle once and for all the question of whether marijuana is a truly dangerous drug or a relatively harmless substitute for a cocktail."

Augenstein said he has been a consultant to the drug section of the National Institutes of Mental Health for the past few years.

"Hart clearly does not comprehend that experiments to document once and for all whether marijuana leads to harder drugs would involve so much human manipulation that they should never be done," he said.

"Again," Augenstein said, "Hart doesn't know what he is talking about when he implies that the effects of cigarettes and marijuana may be the same or at least can be studied in the same way."

Hard Pesticides May Go; No Present Action Seen

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, (D-Mich.), predicts hard pesticides may eventually be outlawed but he concedes there is little chance of any immediate congressional action to ban them.

Hart made the comment to newsmen this week during a recess in his Senate subcommittee hearings on the effects of pesticides upon sports and commercial fisheries.

The Michigan Democrat, who is chairman of the subcommittee on energy, natural resources and the environment, told the Muskegon hearing that "if my life depended upon it I couldn't tell you what the first federal step will be" to control hard pesticides.

However, the senator said earlier that "one feasible way seems to be to identify the pesticides which are a serious threat to our environment and simply outlaw them."

Outlawing such persistent pesticides as DDT and Dieldrin would be impossible unless there are effective, non-linering substitutes, the senator said.

Nine persons made statements for the subcommittee's records at the Muskegon hearing.

Only a representative of the Michigan Association of nurserymen defended their use. Marion Van Slaughter of Ottawa County said that nurserymen "object to elimination of a known (pest) control when there is no tested substitute."

The other speakers, except for two representatives of the state's fishing industry, called for quick action to ban potentially dangerous pesticides.

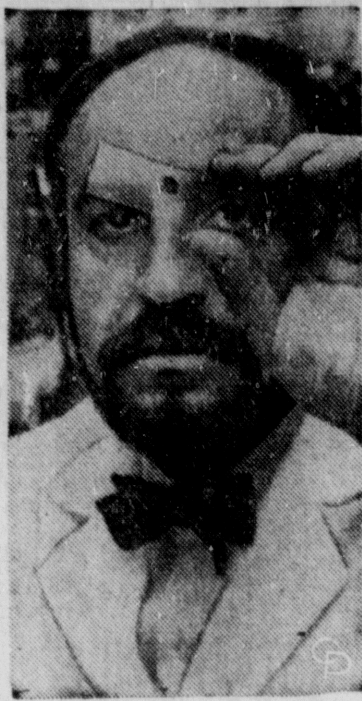

Mrs. Willard Wolfe of Belmont, chairman of the Michigan pesticides council, said her group supports "banning DDT as a first step" in controlling the use of pesticides.

Both Marvin Blackport, president of a Grand Rapids Packing Company, and Claude Ver Duin of Grand Haven, representing the Midwest Federated Fishing Council, called for better determination of what amount of pesticide residues make fish dangerous for human consumption.

Ver Duin contended there is a double standard when the state gives away fish the federal government will not allow to be canned and shipped outside Michigan.

Powers-Spalding

Pastor Philip Kuckhahn opened the meeting of the Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid held Thursday night in the church basement in Powers, with a meditation and reading. Following the short business meeting lunch was served by Mrs. Bernard LeBoeuf and Mrs. Ruth Kalischek.

BABY FOOD FEAR — Dr. John W. Olney holds up a microscope slide containing brain section of a mouse which he claims was damaged by monosodium glutamate, a food flavor enhancer now in baby foods. The Washington University, St. Louis, assistant psychiatry professor says sufficient data is available to call for baby food makers to remove MSG from their products until scientists can determine a safe dosage. MSG is used widely to enhance flavor of processed foods and only recently was added to baby foods.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

Environmental Quality: Favor Standards Study For U.P.

ANN ARBOR — Now is the time, a University of Michigan engineer argues, to set standards for environmental quality in Upper Michigan.

"What we want is economic growth in Upper Michigan, not because the region lacks such standards, but because it has them," according to Prof. John M. Armstrong of the U-M civil engineering department.

Armstrong has suggested to a state task force that a council be established to take a "systems analysis" approach to the problems of industrial growth and environmental quality in Upper Michigan.

Systems analysis is a relatively new technique to minimize guesswork and encourage teamwork in highly complex systems. A model of the system, a mathematical representation of reality, allows the planners to see how changes in one or more aspects of the system affect the whole.

No New Frontier
"We can no longer use the relative isolation and wilderness of areas like the Upper Peninsula as reasons to discount the long-term projections of environmentalists," Prof. Armstrong said.

And, he added, "meaningful approaches to retention of a quality environment will require nothing short of a revolution in present concepts of economic and industrial growth."

Perhaps, Prof. Armstrong noted, "we have not yet shed ourselves of what might be called the 'Frontier Syndrome' " — the habit of taking it for granted that there is always a new frontier left to enjoy.

"What we need to do is change our concepts of planning for growth, and begin to account for the environmental implications of man's activities — his ecology."

Need Awareness
Lenses have Although environmental problems have begun to receive attention from the federal and state governments, "it is urgent that regional and local organizations become aware of environmental problems unique to their particular area" said Prof. Armstrong, who serves as an advisor to the Governor's Council on Environmental Quality.

"It is essential, in considering the total environment as a limited resource, for every region to understand what its resources are, how they could be used, and the consequences of use."

"Systems analysis can help plan for these problems, particularly for new technology." Suggesting the establishment of a Council on Economic Growth and Environmental Quality in Upper Michigan, Prof. Armstrong said such an organization should deal with the unique problems of the region.

Prof. Armstrong expressed his views before the Governor's Task Force on the Upper Great Lakes, which is coordinated by the Office of Economic Expansion, Michigan Department of Commerce.
